Dear Sisters and Brothers,

“Surely he has borne our infirmities and carried our diseases; yet we accounted him stricken, struck down by God, and afflicted. But he was wounded for our transgressions, crushed for our iniquities; upon him was the punishment that made us whole, and by his bruises we are healed.” (Is 53:4-5)

During this time of global COVID 19 pandemic, we face uncertainties about our health and wellbeing, unknown social and economic conditions, however, we hear the faith journey of the Apostles and the faith declaration of St. Thomas, “My Lord and my God” and celebrate Divine Mercy Sunday.

With places of worship closed, liturgies and sacramental celebrations suspended, we as members of the Catholic Church have been rediscovering new ways of being the Church. Many of our families have revived the joy of praying together, the fruitfulness of meditating on the Word of God together.

Pope Francis highlighted during the special Urbi et Orbi blessing that we embrace the cross in these difficult moments to find “the courage to create spaces where everyone can recognize that we are called, and to allow new forms of hospitality, fraternity and solidarity”.

Last Sunday's gospel, taken from St. John, described the first hint at the resurrection which the Apostles received. Peter and John, convinced that the body had not been taken away, because the winding sheets were left behind, were beginning to believe.

But the others were sceptical, the two disciples on the way to Emmaus paid no heed to the women’s story, and Thomas refused to believe the testimony of the other ten, even when this present appearance of our Lord had convinced them.

We thank the apostles and especially Thomas, the last to give in, that our faith in the resurrection and divine glorification of Christ is that much the stronger. Let us pray to the risen Christ for the whole world and beseech the intercession of Mother Mary on all of us. Let our prayer be “Jesus, I trust in You.”

Many Blessings,

Fr. Anthoni Adimai

Together in Prayer
Calling Christians to Prayer in Adelaide and South Australia

In response to the unfolding situation of this COVID-19 pandemic, fear and anxiety are arising within the community. There is a sense of powerlessness as rapidly changing measures are implemented, requiring adaptations in routine, engagement and the ability to work, producing social isolation in many instances.

In the uncertainty of difficult times ahead, the presence of unconditional love and kindness, and the strength of the whole people of God, offer a space where concerns can be acknowledged and expressed, care for others can be offered and hope can be shared.

Replace anxiety, dislocation and sense of powerlessness, with:
- A sense of community.
- Loving concern for each other.
- Christians coming together.
- Positive action and hope in this area.

Together in Prayer
- Every Friday 8am.
- Pray together as the whole people of God:
  1. The Lord’s Prayer.
  2. &/or set prayer from your tradition.
  3. &/or own prayer.

Please share and promote this idea widely across your networks.

Centacare Free Phone Counselling Service Available by Appointment

People struggling to cope with the chaos and fear surrounding COVID-19 can now access free phone counselling by appointment from Centacare Catholic Family Services. In response to the health emergency, Centacare has increased capacity to provide telephone support for mental health concerns, family stress due to job loss, social isolation and other challenges arising from the coronavirus pandemic.

Specialist Clinician Elaine Reynolds said it was crucial people did not go it alone at a time when unprecedented social measures were keeping friends and families apart, exacerbating challenges for those already at risk.

"In extreme moments like this, the options for personal control are severely limited, so there are a lot of people feeling lost, powerless and anxious," Elaine said. "The worries and what-ifs surrounding COVID-19 are enormous, and the ramifications of this can be gut-wrenching for many people."

People can phone Centacare between 9am to 5pm, Monday to Friday, to make a daytime or evening appointment. The telephone counselling service is inclusive, non-judgmental and unconditional.

"Centacare wishes to offer a connection to those who seek counselling, strategies, or ways of working through individual, family or relationship issues, without having to leave their home," Deputy Director Pauline Connelly said.

"In isolation with families, what once may have been an irritant can become an aggravator, and what once was a disappointment can lead to confusion and disturbance in one’s thinking. “Seeking help early at these times, through phone counselling, can offer relief and provide a pathway to a new normal.”

To book an appointment for COVID-19 telephone counselling, please phone Centacare on 8215 6700. For more information, please contact Elizabeth Rowe 0437 062 302.
