

ADELAIDE CATHEDRAL PARISH

Thirty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time - Year C

13th November 2022

The Destruction of the Temple foretold

The Gospel of this penultimate Sunday of the liturgical year (cf. Lk 21: 5-19) presents to us Jesus' discourse on the end of time. Jesus pronounces it in front of the temple of Jerusalem, a building admired by the people for its grandeur and splendour. But He prophesied that of all the beauty of the temple, that grandeur, "there will not be left here one stone upon another that will not be thrown down" (v. 6).

The destruction of the temple foretold by Jesus is not so much a figure of the end of history as of the purpose of history. Indeed, before the listeners who want to know how and when these signs will happen, Jesus responds with the typical apocalyptic language of the Bible.

He uses two apparently contrasting images: the first is a series of frightening events: catastrophes, wars, famines, riots and persecutions (vv. 9-12); the other is reassuring: "Not a hair of your head will perish" (v. 18). First of all there is a realistic look at history, marked by calamities and also by violence, by traumas that wound creation, our common home, and also the human family that lives there, and the Christian community itself.

Think of the many wars today, so many calamities today. The second image – enclosed in Jesus' reassurance – tells us the attitude that the Christian must adopt in living this story, characterised by violence and adversity.

And what is the attitude of the Christian? It is the attitude of hope in God, which allows us not to be overwhelmed by tragic events. Indeed, they are an "opportunity to bear witness" (v. 13). Christ's disciples cannot remain slaves to fears and anxieties; instead, they are called to live history, to stem the destructive force of evil, with the certainty that the Lord's action of goodness is always accompanied by His providential and reassuring tenderness.

This is the eloquent sign that the Kingdom of God is coming to us, that is, that the realisation of the world as God wants it is approaching. It is He, the Lord, Who guides our existence and knows the ultimate purpose of things and events.

The Lord calls us to collaborate in the construction of history, becoming, together with Him, peacemakers and witnesses of hope in a future of salvation and resurrection. Faith makes us walk with Jesus on the very often tortuous roads of this world, in the certainty that the power of His Spirit will bend the forces of evil, subjecting them to the power of God's love. Love is superior, love is more powerful, because it is God: God is love.

The Christian martyrs are an example to us – our martyrs, of our times too, who are more numerous than those of the beginnings – who, despite persecution, are men and women of peace. They give us an inheritance to preserve and imitate: the Gospel of love and mercy.

This is the most precious treasure that has been given to us and the most effective witness that we can give to our contemporaries, responding to hatred with love, to offence with forgiveness. Even in our daily lives: when we receive an offence, we feel pain; but we must forgive from the heart. When we feel we are hated, we must pray with love for the person who hates us.

(Pope Francis Homily)

13 Nov: Men, Women and the Mystery of Love

The Adelaide Cathedral Young Adults Group invites all our parishioners (between the ages 18-35 years ONLY) to a 10-part series on the Practical insights from St John Paul II's Love and Responsibility. The program will be anchored by Fr Anthony Beltrame and begins on 13 November at 7.15pm in the Cathedral Hall.

As Catholics we love relationships. We know we were created for them, and we know that only in and through them can we discover the meaning of our lives. And so, in our study of Men, Women, and the Mystery of Love, by Dr. Edward Sri, we will examine our own hearts more closely and also how we approach relationships with the opposite sex.

By drawing on insights from St John Paul II's teachings on love and sexuality we'll hope to answer some of your questions about relationships and inspire you to live out all of your relationships with a deeper Christ-like love.
