

11th July 1996 :Anniversary of the Dedication of St. Francis Xavier's Cathedral

This Cathedral is dedicated to Saint Francis Xavier patron of missionary countries and of our first bishop, Francis Murphy (1844-58). Work began in 1851 using the design submitted by colonial Architect, Richard Lambeth. Bishop Murphy was directed again to Charles Hansom (1817-88), an English architect and pupil of Augustus Welby Pugin the Gothic revivalist (1812-52). Hansom produced plans for a modest cathedral in the early English Gothic style (1189-1307).

The church was designed so it could be built in stages, as money became available. William Leigh, a friend of Bishop Murphy, gave a generous bequest. This enabled the bishop to begin work on the construction of his cathedral.

Fr. Michael Ryan, in the absence of Bishop Murphy, laid the foundation stone 17th March 1856. He opened and blessed stage one of the cathedral on 11 July 1858. This consisted of a small sanctuary, the central nave to the first five arches and two narrow small aisles. Bishop Murphy died on 27th April 1858. His body is buried beneath the sanctuary of the cathedral.

As with most cathedrals, the construction of this building was slow. The first extension, which included a sanctuary, a Lady Chapel (now used as a sacristy), a side chapel and a sacristy, was completed on 11th November 1860.

Peter Paul Pugin, the son of AWN Pugin, designed the extensions to the eastern side of the nave. Bishop (later Archbishop) Reynolds (1873-93) dedicated the extensions on 15 August 1887. They also included a second story to the sacristy and three confessionals set in graceful niches. The architect was E J Woods of Adelaide.

Archbishop Spence (1915-34) laid the foundation stone for the complementary western side aisle. The cathedral was extended by two extra arches, the narthex, the choir gallery, and the baptistery. This extension was dedicated to 23rd April 1926 and built by W H Bago, a local Architect.

In 1996 the tower was completed. This enabled Archbishop Faulkner (1985-01) to dedicate the Cathedral on 11th July 1996. The large Murphy bell of 1867 hangs in the tower with twelve other bells that were blessed on 17th April 1996.

The day of the Dedication of our Cathedral is a Solemnity.

23 July: World Day for Grandparents and the Elderly in our Parish

The third World Day for Grandparents and the Elderly, which will be celebrated on July 23, 2023, will have the theme, "His mercy is from age to age" (Lk 1: 50). This verse reminds us that God's mercy is manifested in history through the testimonies of those who have experienced it and passed it on to their children and grandchildren. Grandparents and the elderly are called to carry this mercy, to tell through words and life how God has been faithful to His promises and how He continues to love His people. They are also called to receive God's mercy, and to allow themselves to be comforted by His fatherly love that never abandons them. The World Day for Grandparents and the Elderly is an occasion to once again express with joy that the Church wants to celebrate together with those whom the Lord -- as the Bible says -- has given "a full life".

This year's Day is characterized by its close connection with the World Youth Day, which will be held in Lisbon from 1 to 6 August. This relationship is evident in Pope Francis' message to elders, inviting them to pray for and bless the youth who will participate in the WYD, and to young people, urging them to visit and listen to the grandparents and the elderly in their community. The Pope stressed that between the two generations there is a communion of life and faith, a mutual giving and gratitude, a witness of hope and charity. A special prayer and blessing will be held at all Masses on the day across the Adelaide Cathedral Parish and we invite all our parishioners to attend the service along with their parents/grandparents and elderly members of the family.
