

The Gospel tells us that they all rejoiced because of the calm, and he led them safely to the shore. He indeed was their Saviour, and they knew very well that they could rely on him in their troubles and in their difficulties. Hence Peter could so easily say when all had deserted Jesus: "Lord to whom we shall go. You have the words of eternal life."

Jesus shows this to us to indicate how powerful his kingdom is and he is in total control over every situation. Perhaps a deeper teaching is given to us today as it was given to the early church. We can read the story as a kind of parable or allegory of the Church and especially concerned the early Church as it is of the Church in many places in our own time.

We can see the boat, here and in other parts of the Gospel, as symbolising the Church. And in fact, as already mentioned there were a number of boats, representing the different church communities. The early church was rocked with many persecutions that resembled the storm. Similarly, today each one must deal with its problems in its own way.

All are struggling being caught in the rough sea and finding it difficult to escape the storm. In one boat were the disciples of Jesus and Jesus was with them. The stormy water all around them symbolised trouble and persecution.

The whole aim of Jesus was to show to his disciples and the people who He was and that He had been sent to bring them to God.

Papua New Guinea Landslide Disaster:

Caritas Australia is supporting our partners to provide urgent humanitarian aid

Hundreds are feared dead and thousands displaced after a landslide struck a remote village in Papua New Guinea on May 24. The timing of the landslide meant most people were sleeping at the time of the disaster, with little time to escape. Our partners on-the-ground in Papua New Guinea are currently conducting a rapid needs assessment in the affected villages to determine the most urgent priorities. The recovery is expected to be long, and food, shelter and clean water are amongst the most urgent needs for people who have lost their homes because of the landslide.

Your generous donation today means our partners in Papua New Guinea can respond quickly to support vulnerable communities during this crisis. To donate please call 1800 024 413 toll free or visit the website: www.caritas.org.au/donate/emergency-appeals/papua-new-guinea-landslide/
